Description

Since its founding in 2018, Safe has played a pioneering role in smart accounts on Ethereum. Safe is the largest smart account infrastructure in the industry, with over 8 million users. It has become one of the most widely used smart contracts on Ethereum, with more than €100 billion under management. The primary mission of Safe is to accelerate the transition to smart accounts.

Value Increase Potential

SAFE is a rapidly growing project with a relatively new token, and we see significant potential for value appreciation. Safe offers a smart wallet that utilizes Ethereum smart contracts to enable features such as multisig and seedless onboarding. These features are not only fully decentralized but also highly appealing to enterprise clients. This drives high demand for the token, as companies seek control over the technologies they rely on. With over €100 million in assets under management and current plans for a revenue model, we believe Safe could become a very successful on-chain business. As Safe is based on Ethereum and has undergone multiple audits, it has proven to be extremely secure, which further enhances the trust of its over 8 million users and boosts its value. We believe that, due to these factors, interest in Safe and the Safe token will only increase over time, leading to a significant rise in value.
